What is Bidy Basketball?

Bidy Basketball is a national organization run by Firmin Simms of New Orleans, and it has been in existence for over 55 years. It is a modified game of basketball that allows seven through 12 year old boys and girls to develop their basketball and people skills through good clean competition. The primary purpose of Bidy Basketball is to make youngsters feel that they belong in the sports world while developing character, and making friends. Countless high school, college, and even pro basketball players developed their skills playing Bidy Basketball including Slidell's own Chris Duhon formerly of the Duke Blue Devils, the Chicago Bulls and the New York Knicks and currently of the Orlando Magic, Torris Bright of the LSU Tigers, Natalie Walsh and Tiffany Aidoo of the Tulane Green Wave.
